For School Purposes Only. The members of the Congress Heights

Citizens' Association recently obtained pernission from the District Commissioners to lease an old frame public school build-ing in their section, it being desired to establish therein a night school. The matter ad, however, been first referred to the attorney for the District, who advised the missioners that the act of Congress of March 3, 1803, prohibiting the use of public school buildings for other than those directly connected with the public schools, related, in his opinion, to those only actually in use for school purposes. An agreement was drawn up, requiring no money consideration, and sent to the parties interested to be signed. Subsequently they informed the Commissioners that as a night school had meantime been established in the vicinity, they deemed it inexpedient to establish another, and the Commissioners were informed that the building was destined to be used for other than school purposes. The matter was again referred to the attorney for the District, who has advised the Commissioners that they are without authority to grant the building for any other than school purposes.

DOUGLASS DAY OBSERVED. Pupils of the Colored Schools Do

Douglass day was celebrated in the col-red divisions of the Washington public schools this afternoon, the ceremonies at the different buildings beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Appropriate addresses upon the life and teachings of the negro leader, with quotations and excerpts from his sayings, comprised the various programs arranged. Songs and instrumental music were added features to the exercises of observance in many instances. Superintendent Cook of the colored schools ordered the setting the colored schools ordered the setting aside of the afternoon sessions of the schools under his control today that there be unanimity in the conduct of exercises in celebration of the birth of Frederick Douglass. These exercises were largely attended throughout, many colored persons prominent in their race being present in addition to the pulls.
